Alcea - visiting and on display at the SVP Center

Dawn Stranges and Dale Pond doing final assembly of Alcea last year. This was a unique experience as the power had gone off in the neighborhood leaving us to do the assembly by flashlight and gas lantern.

Alcea, being the fourth dynasphere, is by far the most powerful dynasphere yet. This may be attributed to several factors one of which is the accumulated experiences with all these marvelous beings.

Alcea

Alcea is currently visiting the SVP Center. This means, for now, there are two and two-thirds* dynaspheres here at the center. Wow! What energy and power to transform.

Alcea, sometimes called The Shining One, is looking for a new home where SVP is researched and supported. As also of course she wants love and to give Love as much as possible.

* Alya, number five, is under construction.

Big Time Changes

I'm feeling terrific! It has been three months since I signed up with TSTN:

I can say that without a doubt the experience has enriched my life in many ways. My income is up and still climbing. I have shed several pounds and inches! My body is stronger, more enduring and toned. The plan is to run a mile plus within a few more weeks. This is significant when considering I couldn't run 30 feet when I started just 90 days ago. My general attitude is much improved and I can do more work for more hours than I was doing last year.

On top of all those personal benefits I've introduced this amazing program to countless people. Some of whom have availed themselves of this great opportunity to improve their lives and help them achieve the successes they've been dreaming and striving for.

SVP Affiliate Program

A couple of weeks ago SVP launched its affiliate program. This program is initially built around our UBO (Unincorporated Business Organization Trust) and related products. To date I can announce the program is a success with new affiliates coming on board every day. As we move forward with this program more products and ad banners will be added. To learn more about this exciting program visit these links:

SVP Research & Development

SVP has entered into a new (but old) research project: developing a meter to measure Life Force sometimes known as Chi, Qi, bio-energy, etc. We feel we are in a unique position to tackle this project. Our near 30 years of intense research into the subtle energy forces affords us a leading edge position in understanding dynamics and rendering those concepts and principles into material form such as patentable measuring instruments and similar devices.

SVP Center

Spring is here and already the hundreds of tulip and daffodil bulbs we planted last year are up. The dozens of donated iris plants are growing too and we will have a great show of color here soon as these all blossom in their many different colors. I can hardly wait!

SVP Research Library

Our library has received many hundreds of new donated and purchased books and magazines. Actually we've received a LOT of new additions. So many in fact they are stacking up all around the place waiting for shelving. All available shelving has been long filled and still more is needed. It has been said the all libraries suffer from lack of shelving. I can understand that now. We could use several hundred feet of shelving should anyone wish to make a donation as a Friend of the SVP Center Library.

Perpetual Motion solved

These guys have carefully investigated accepted phenomena and devised a unique perpetual motion machine:

SVP Archives

The other day I was looking for a document I had in my hands sometime after moving in here. I could not find it. That led me to purchase an additional filing cabinet for these archive files. There are now several filing cabinets devoted to the archives.

Linda comes in part time to sort through the boxes of archival materials and putting it all in order. It's a hugh task that by its size and complexity has no completion date. One day though we can look forward to mining these files accumulated during the past 30 or so years. Already we've seen some of the valuable things in these archives with the new additions to our catalog of several long lost Ben Iverson pieces.
